Customer Feedback / Comments:

"I have used Concentration Essentials, which I bought from Natural Wellbeing.com - there prices were the cheapest I had found. I decided to give them herbs at least 90 before determining whether or not they were working for me. Its been just a little over that 3 month time frame now and I can honestly say that, yes, they have helped me quite a bit. My biggest issue was not being able to truly focus and now I am able to focus enough that I can even write this post in one sitting. I'd recommend giving it a try, it may help you like it did me."-- Actual Consumer Comments from About[dot]com

"...I tried lots of other remedies, but they did little or nothing to help. I was almost ready to give up and put him on Ritalin, but decided to give Concentration Essentials a try. Wow, what a difference!" -- Actual Consumer Comments from NaturalWellBeing[dot]com

"I knew my son needed help, but I was hesitant to start him on medication...I thought about it for a long time, then started researching online, and reading various things about ADHD medication...I read many horror stories of children dying, and health being permanently damaged...I couldn't risk putting my son's health on the line...and when my neighbor Judy told me about a natural alternative treatment call Concentration Essentials. That worked wonders for her nephew, I thought it was worth at least trying it." -- Actual Consumer Comments from MaleSurvivor[dot]org
